

DR. DERNBURG TO WORK IN SOUTH AMERICAN FIELD?

Departure From United States Looked Upon as Very Significant

BRITISH PAPER DECLARES PROPAGANDA INCESSANT

Schools and Churches Directed From Berlin, Is the Charge

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—Dr. Dernburg, former secretary of state for the German colonies, who has been living in the states for a number of months, is planning to depart for Cuba and South America on a trip of indeterminate duration.

Dr. Dernburg's departure was confirmed by the German embassy, which, of its own initiative tonight, sought assurances of safe conduct and immunity from detention at sea by French or British cruisers which might search the American vessel on which he will travel.

British Diplomat Warns America.

GLASGOW, Scotland.—In a statement made to the London correspondent of the New York Tribune, Sir William Haggard, K. C. M. G., until his retirement last year his majesty's minister to Brazil, warns America against the menace of German expansion in South America, particularly in Brazil. Sir William had just received by mail from Rio Grande do Sul, the Brazilian province most thickly populated by Germans, a letter which told of aggressiveness on the part of Germans there. Their attitude was such that the authorities had to call them to order. There was a threatened attack on German business houses, and troops had to suppress the trouble. "The Brazilians dread a German victory," said Sir William's correspondent, a foreigner but English, "as much as anyone, as it would simply mean the appropriation of this province."

Sir William then told of the existence of a map published in Germany which sets forth as German territory certain regions, including southern Brazil, calling it "Antarctic Germany," and he called attention to the claim of the Pan-German Union on South America, notably Brazil, as "our inheritance in one of the richest quarters of the globe."

Continuing, Sir William said: "Had the mass of Americans noticed the German propaganda throughout South America, especially Brazil, that there are 600 German schools in Brazil, and did Americans know, as I do from successive German representatives in Brazil and from my own observations, that those schools, which are entirely conducted in German, are directed, as they have been for years, by the German government through their diplomatic representatives? Had they seen that map of 'Antarctic Germany,' which represents those regions as German? Had they heard of the Pan-German Union's claim to 'our inheritance in one of the richest quarters of the globe'? Did they know that eminent German writers like Dr. Eisenhart had represented that Germany was going to deal with England and the United States consecutively? They would realize that all these efforts were not purely philanthropic but in preparation for a challenge of the Monroe doctrine by an invasion of southern Brazil when the psychological moment should arrive. That would be now—when England was dealt with."

"German Plan of World Conquest."

Americans would then further understand that this would not only involve a direct attack on the Monroe doctrine, but would form the apex of the great German plan of world-conquest which is now being attempted. They would further realize the fact that what now stands between Germany and her attack on the Monroe doctrine, and even between the United States and the menace to their very existence, are our ships in the North sea and in the coast, and the 'battle-weary and bloodstained men' in the trenches. The Germans in the southern Brazil provinces—Rio Grande do Sul, Parana, and Santa Catarina—are generally estimated at 1,000,000 persons. "The large population already there is carefully nursed from Germany, which pays and directs the clergymen and the schoolmasters," added Sir William. "A German representative in Rio told me one day that he had just succeeded in getting through the customs house free of duty 10,000 German school books sent to him from Germany for the colonists. It is hardly to be supposed that this fostering has nothing but a sentimental object. In the states most populated by Germans there are not only scattered settlements but towns bearing German names, with German churches and schools mainly supported from home—German newspapers, in fact, all the surroundings of German life. I have been repeatedly told that many of the children, even of those born there, cannot speak Portuguese—the language of the country. All this," concluded Sir William, "points to only one direction, which is the eventual occupation of those territories by Germany."—Glasgow Herald.

BOY WHO SLASHED OWNER OF STORE BLAMES 'MOVIES'

Nahau Koma, a Hawaiian, aged 19, is held to answer at the juvenile court to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Mrs. Mary Silva, proprietor of a store in Nuuanu valley.

Captain of Detectives McDuffie traced the movements of the boy, who is alleged to have visited the establishment, Koma, when taken to the injured woman, was positively identified as the assailant.

Koma is said to have broken down and confessed to having entered the store, made a small purchase and when the proprietor's back was turned slashed her with a long carving knife. He told the police that he caught the idea from some of the moving pictures.

The officers believe that the Hawaiian youth was after money. The detectives were given a valuable clue by the story told by a Chinese cyclist, who says he passed the Hawaiian immediately after the woman's outcry had attracted his attention toward the store.

JURY ACCUSES GERMANY OF MURDER.

[By Latest Mail] KINSALE, Ireland, May 10.—The verdict rendered by the coroner's jury which investigated the deaths resulting from the torpedoing of the Lusitania, follows:

We find that the deceased met death from prolonged immersion and exhaustion in the sea eight miles south-southwest of Old Head of Kinsale, Friday, May 7, 1915, owing to the sinking of the Lusitania by torpedoes fired by a German submarine.

We also charge the officers of said submarine and the emperor and government of Germany, under whose orders they acted, with the crime of wholesale murder before the tribunal of the civilized world.

We desire to express sincere condolence and sympathy with the relatives of the deceased, the Cunard company and the United States, many of whose citizens perished in this murderous attack on an unarmed liner.

TWO KINDS OF TESTIMONY IN SCULLY TRIAL

Evidence Defendant Gave In Circuit Court Brought Into Federal Case

The transcript of a portion of the testimony which John T. Scully gave in circuit court in the case in which he was found guilty of second degree robbery, was brought into the federal court trial this morning when James L. Horner, stenographer in Judge Ashford's division, was called as a witness by the prosecution.

U. S. District Attorney Jeff McCann asked the witness a number of questions regarding what Scully testified in circuit court and in all instances the witness replied by reading the answer from his stenographic notes.

The testimony was, in effect, that Chun Chong, who was the first witness in the federal court trial, was to pay Scully $100 if he would go to the Matsun wharf and get a package which was in one of the lawtores and deliver it to the Chinese. Reading from his notes, Horner said that Scully had testified that he went to the wharf and had a look at the package, later taking it to McGrath's house in Kalihi. The testimony was that Scully was to have delivered the package to the Chinese at River and Kukui streets the night of February 3, but, as he thought probably there was opium in it, he took it to McGrath's house and hid it.

Attorney C. H. McBride, counsel for the defense, made numerous objections to the prosecution's questions on the ground, mainly, that they did not tend to prove the offense charged against Scully in the indictment. The majority of the objections were overruled by Judge C. F. Clemons.

According to the testimony, Scully said that McGrath was not at the house in Kalihi when the party arrived in the automobile. He said he asked Mrs. McGrath if he could use the dining room for a little while and that Mrs. McGrath told him to come into the house. She said that McGrath was expected home any moment, according to the testimony.

Upon the completion of the prosecution's examination of Horner, a motion by the defense to introduce a transcript of all the testimony given by Scully in circuit court was overruled by the court.

May Kibling and Antone Gonsalves were other witnesses called to the stand this morning. The prosecution has announced that it will call A. M. Brown, deputy city and county attorney, to the stand again. Further trial of the case will be had at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

VISITORS GIVE ATTENTIVE EAR TO SUGAR STORY

In whose hands lies the future of Hawaii, were told the story of sugar. Pamphlets outlining the work of the experiment station and giving sugar statistics were given them, and the cultivation and milling of the cane were explained by the experts of the station. The visitors were met and conducted by H. P. Agee, director.

Mr. Maquin told how new varieties are being sought by the presence and absence theory of propagation, which is based upon the new Mendellism. The tassel is planted, and by semigerm mutation new varieties arise. About 50 per cent are discarded as being below the average sugar content. Those above the average are nursed along until a pure strain is established, when two pure strains are crossed. Higher sugar content is the character sought. The Lahaina strain, which is the greatest irrigated cropper of Hawaii, is deteriorating and is being replaced by a seedling developed here called H 109.

"Here's luck to you, O Sugar Seedling. May your sugar content be high and your yield high to save the industry of these islands, the Paradise of the Pacific." Such was the prayer of each congressional experimenter as he put his official stamp on a Hawaiian seedling.

In the entomology department, in charge of O. H. Swezey, many interesting things were found. The chief discovery by the visitors was that sugar cane pests are fought by introducing natural enemies rather than by insecticides. The leaf hopper and the cane borer, so destructive to fields of cane, are successfully fought with parasites. The root grub has its parasite also, which has been discovered in Java by F. Muir of the station after two years of search.

By picture and by booklet and best of all by expert explanation did the congressmen learn of the industry which faces destruction through the passage of free tariff. The speeches at the luncheon, the table decorations

HAWAIIAN SONG IS WRITTEN BY CONGRESSMAN

Representative M. F. Conry of New York Composes Words and Music as a Tribute

The guests at the chamber of commerce dinner at the Moana hotel last evening at the Moana hotel were the first to hear the new song written for Hawaii by Representative M. F. Conry of New York City, who sang his new song then for the first time.

As yet the music has not been transcribed, but it is of a sweet and plaintive character. The song as sung last evening by the composer made a big hit. Mr. Conry has not yet selected a name for his composition, the words of which follow:

So kind, kind and gentle is she, Kind is Hawaii. No other isles in southern sea Can ever compare with Hawaii.

See you isle of Molokai Whose sorrows make the poor heart sigh; Commit her care to God on High. For she's a part of Hawaii.

CHORUS: So kind, kind and gentle is she, etc. We've traveled far o'er land and sea With sprit's light and hearts care free. But ne'er has been our lot to see Isles more fair than Hawaii.

CHORUS: So kind, kind and gentle is she, etc.

The Williams' undertaking establishment has occupied its present location on Fort near Pauahi streets for about 18 years.

of all cane varieties and the souvenir sacks of raw sugar made the visit sugary and one likely to make a sugar taste for the lawmakers until next congress at least.

The luncheon, set amid the flowing cane of the experiment plot, was an informal affair at which the congressmen and planters present enjoyed a social hour discussing the sugar situation. A. W. T. Bottomley, vice-president of the association, acted as toastmaster.

The congressmen will be given a tea and reception by Governor Pinkham at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Cooper, Lunailo and Hackfield streets, between 4:30 and 6 o'clock this afternoon. The beautiful yard has been fitted up with an outdoor pavilion of canvas and green decorations. Queen Lilioakalani will be present as will also the Hawaiian band to make the affair Hawaiian. Assisting Governor Pinkham in extending welcome will be Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Sanford B. Dole and Mrs. George R. Carter. Mrs. W. F. Frear, wife of Hawaii's other former governor, will not be in the receiving line as planned, owing to a previous engagement.

At 6 o'clock tonight the guests will be entertained at a dinner by the men's league of the Central Union church.

Tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock, Delegate Kuhio will give a reception at his Waikiki home in honor of the visitors.

KOREANS EXPEL PRESIDENT WHO IS FACING TRIAL

Kim Chong Hak Succeeded as Head of National Association By L. S. Chung

Kim Chong Hak, former president of the Korean National Association, who was arrested Friday night upon the charge preferred by the directors of the association of embezzling $1345.80 of the organization's money, was expelled from the association by a unanimous vote today. Kim has been released upon a $1000 bond to appear for trial in the circuit court next week.

The newly elected president, L. S. Chung, found the alleged shortage but learned that Kim and the treasurer intended to replace the money if given time. The directors, however, insisted upon seeing the books and also discovered the deficit. The annual dues are $5 and as a Korean's standing in Hawaii is based upon his prompt payment of the national dues the treasury is generally well filled for the support of the Korean National Herald, the association newspaper.

Since the exposure of the former president the directors have been in session making new by-laws as a check upon the association officers. Part of the association money goes to support the military training of Koreans in the islands.

MAYOR MUST NOT DISCHARGE AND DEPARTMENT MEN

have sole power to select their own employees.

"Section 1756 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, provides:

"Any city and county officer may remove from office any deputy, assistant or clerk appointed by him. And any officer who shall have been appointed by the mayor with the approval of the board of supervisors, may be removed by the same authority."

"Sections 1704 and 1756, when construed together, in the light of Coster vs. Trent decision make it clear that the joint action of the mayor and board is necessary to the appointment of all heads of departments, and such department heads have sole power to appoint their subordinate employees; and power to discharge either department heads or employees thereof is vested in the same body or individual as has the appointing power.

"It must be noted that Section 1704 gives the mayor and board joint power to appoint heads of departments in all cases not otherwise especially provided for by law and I take it that this would include provisions enacted by way of ordinance. So that in case an ordinance was drafted, vesting the appointing power as to any particular department head in the board of supervisors alone or in the mayor alone, such ordinance would be valid.

"By way of illustration it may be noted that our present ordinance, No. 43, has expressly provided that the board of supervisors has the power of both appointment and discharge in the case of the plumbing inspector of the city and county of Honolulu. This is the only department head, so far as I am aware, whose appointment and discharge is under the sole control of the board.

"I may add that Section 1702 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, gives the mayor the sole right to suspend any official guilty of official misconduct, pending an official investigation. This is the extent, however, of the mayor's control over department heads.

"Respectfully submitted, "WILLIAM B. LYMER, "First Deputy City and County Attorney."

NO ANSWER SENT TO COMMANDER'S QUERY ON LUAU

Mayor Lane said today that he has made no answer to the official letter of the commander of the U. S. S. Maryland, the communication which asked for an explanation of the "luau affair." Nor did the city's executive indicate when it even he would make answer to the naval officer's question. A sailor of the Maryland made official complaint to the ship's command, alleging that the police ordered all sailors, marines and soldiers away from the vicinity of the luau in Kaplan park with intent to discriminate against the United States uniform. The police have sworn to affidavits charging that they acted on explicit orders from the mayor.

It was reported previous to last night's meeting of the board of supervisors that the board's members would abandon their proposed inquiry into the "affair."

This report failed to be upheld, however, for the supervisors set aside next Tuesday night for the opening hearing, the supervisors sitting as a committee of the whole.

BUSY SESSION OF LAND BOARD THIS AFTERNOON

The question of what will be a fair yearly rental for land and buildings above Allen street and fronting on Fort street, which now are owned by the government and on which Hackfeld & Co. has applied for a lease, is to be discussed and probably settled this afternoon at a meeting of the land board. The land and buildings formerly were leased by Hackfeld & Co., the lease having expired April 24. The new application covers a term of five years. The board also will consider new application for leases.

A meeting of the board was to have been held at 10 o'clock this morning, but was postponed until this afternoon owing to the illness of Bruce Cartwright, Jr., and the absence of Commissioner Waldron.

KEWALO CLAIMS STILL GROWING; MANY ILLEGAL

Fourteen additional claims, aggregating in amount $3657.17, were filed with the superintendent of public works today for damages to Kewalo properties by contractors engaged in reclamation work. More than $11,000 worth of claims against the territory were filed yesterday, the first day allowed, and it is estimated that about one-half of these will have to be returned owing to the failure of the claimants to swear to their claims before a notary public and to provide war tax stamps on their documents. The claims will be accepted until October 1. Will Wayne, formerly a local newspaperman, has been engaged to take charge of the Kewalo claims and all documents are to be filed with him.
